The Human Library

"Restorative justice is not simply a way of reforming the criminal justice system; it is a way of transforming the entire legal system, our family lives, our conduct in the workplace, and our practice of politics. It is a way of bringing about change in the world."

John Braeger, Restorative Justice: Competing with the Criminal Justice System, edited by A. von Hirsch, J. Roberts, A. J. Roach, and M. Schiff, 1.

Don't Judge a Book by its Cover

A human library works just like a regular library... with one significant difference. The Books are human beings. Each reader enters into a unique 30 minute conversation about the challenges, strengths, and connections in our shared human experience.

This year's Books have unique stories to tell about their personal experiences with various facets of Restorative Justice, as a part of the 2013 Bellarmine Forum.
